

10/01/17 – Callings

We are always being called into a greater expression of ourselves. How do you recognize the 'true call' and how do you distinguish it from the 'siren's song'?

Once your calling is recognized, what resistance comes up in you and how do you manage it?

Share a time when you said yes to a calling. What were the wins, the challenges, and the results?